'Look, Listen and Think'

From the Principal

As a write this newsletter the rains have certainly set in, and our numbers are well down. Our teachers have worked hard to make sure those who may have been impacted have work to go on with from home.

I had the most fabulous week last week with 14 delightful students in Sydney. I will let you read all about it from the students, but I just wanted to thank Helen, Ellie and Keiran who joined Alison and I for the adventure. The positive feedback from strangers about their behaviour was regular and deserved. students had not had excursions in the past few years so for half of them it was their first one. We cannot thank Ms Galvin enough for the 5-star accommodation which she generously donated. I spoke to my older children on our return about how lucky Burren kids are to climb the bridge and not stay on plastic mattresses in bunk beds. They assured me when they hit high school and have a school camp when you eat tin sausages and powdered potato and sleep in a leaking tent you absolutely realise how lucky you are to have attended excursions at BJPS. A massive thank you to the P&C for providing the bridge climb. It is a once in a lifetime experience.

Year 5 Naplan started on Tuesday and will resume next Monday (weather permitting) to allow for students to return. Year 3 have been able to continue as planned and most are finished. We were given a 10 day test window to accommodate for Covid, so have used this to accommodate for wet weather.

CROSS COUNTRY

As you would have received notification Narrabri West have postponed the Cross-Country carnival due to the large amount of rain and awareness that many families would be unable to attend. They contacted each school to check availabilities and the date that all could work with was Friday June 3rd. That is Eisteddfod week, however no school has anything on that date. It will give us all some more time to train

EISTEDDFOD COSTUMES

In preparation for the 2-6 dance Mrs Deacon has advised that each child will need to wear a pair of jeans and a plain white shirt with black shoes. We have ordered each child a shirt from Kmart so they just need to have any shade of blue jeans.

K-1 will wear full winter uniform (ties for boys and stockings for girls) for their poetry performance.

We will be sending a note asking closer to the date for parents who need assistance in getting children to Narrabri. We are aware that it is hard this far out for parents to commit.

RURAL ACCESS GAP PROGRAM

Thursday Mrs Deacon and I worked with two staff from the Rural Access Gap Program. This program provides technology support and infrastructure to rural and remote schools. This program provided our school with 5 new interactive smartboards in addition to laptops and iPads last year. We will soon begin a 12 month program of support.

Luxury Escapes

Uncomfortable beds, cramped conditions, shared bathroom, bunks, no view, no AC and no lounging area. This was not the case for Burren Junction 5/6 in Sydney – we had total luxury. The Sebel Pinnacle Apartments in Darling Harbour was our magnificent home base during our week in Sydney. Three amazing apartments all with outstanding city views. Comfortable beds, couches, hot showers, television, air conditioners and fantastic housekeeping (Helen). We even had a rooftop reservation to eat dinner, play putt putt and watch the city lights. It was close to all of Sydney's famous icons and we could not have been happier with our accommodation. Miss Bouveng continually reminded us that it was not the type of accommodation children normally experience when on a primary camp. A huge thank you to Ms Galvin for organising our luxury escape. Your generosity was very much appreciated by students, parents and teachers. 5/6 give the Sebel 5 *****

Make or Break

The 5/6 class went to the Australian Museum while in Sydney and it was astonishing. There were humongous dinosaurs, bold birds, unique Aboriginal history and fascinating animals. Our favourite activity was the Brickman exhibition. Click, Clack, Smash. The theme was Jurassic Park and it was super fun. You were allowed to make dinosaur footprints, cars to clear jumps and we each got a tile with prints on it that you would put bricks on and all the tiles together would make a dinosaur. It was amazing. After we left the exhibition, we had a better look at the museum. It was fantastic. At the end, all of us had a look at the gift shop and a couple of people got some souvenirs. It was a great experience.

Transport NSW

While we were in Sydney we used every mode of transport. It started when we left Narrabri on a train which took 8 hours for us to reach Central Station. Once we arrived in Sydney, we began walking which was our most common mode of transport. Most students whinged about walking but soon realised it was the best way to see everything. Another type of transport we went on was the Manly Ferry. While we were on the ferry, we saw jellyfish. It took 20 minutes to reach Manly by ferry. Next, we caught the light rail up George Street. The light rail was packed with people. We were on it for between 5 to 10 minutes. On Friday we caught the train home. While I was on the train, I saw a CAT 323 Next Gen Excavator, trucks, cars and bikes. By Aaron Lane (Transport Minister)

For The Love of Food

Blue fish, Fish and Chips, Tower Eye, Ribs and Burgers, Fratelli Fresh and The Australian Hotel. How lucky were 5/6 who got to enjoy all these delicious restaurants while we were away in Sydney. Our all-time favourite was The Tower Eye which is 309m high, it takes an hour and twenty minutes to rotate and was built in 1970. At the Tower Eye everyone tried something new including mocktails, oysters, prawns and special desserts. Frank Pike managed to squeeze in 7-9 mini meringues. Everyone enjoyed the buffet and came back to the table with mountains of food on their plates and then left for seconds. Overall, everybody loved the mouth-watering food that we ate on the Sydney Excursion.

Setting Sail

We stepped inside the sails and discovered the magic at the heart of this famous Sydney icon. Yes, we were lucky enough to visit the Sydney Opera House designed by Jorn Utzonof Denmark. Jorn's inspiration for the Opera House design came from his childhood which was spent mostly by the water. While we were there, we watched a rehearsal for the latest contemporary ballet. Also, as we were travelling up to the second floor in the elevator, we noticed it had no roof and it was lifting from below. Our tour guide explained that it was because legally they were not allowed to change the original design. The Opera House is built on Bennelong Point and on the side steps there is a beautiful fur seal living there and they named him Benny.

Perfect Paddling

While we were in Sydney, we were lucky enough to try stand up paddle boarding in Manly. It was a perfect day on the water and we couldn't wait to jump onto our blue and white boards. Craig, our instructor, gave us a quick lesson on how to stay on and what to do and what not to do. Splish! Splosh! Splash! Our hearts were beating out of our chests as we glided into the water. Some people found it hard to get up but some didn't. Will was the first up and Tilly was the first to fall in the cold water. 5/6 had a blast racing each other, pushing each other in and switching boards. Even Kitty tried to beat the Manly Ferry to Circular Quay and only had to use the rescue boat twice. At the end of our lesson everyone had fallen in, even Helen who had been pushed in by her son Will. Sadly, our outstanding lesson came to an end. We all had an amazing time on the gorgeous waters of Manly's North Harbour. By Sophie Slack-Smith (SUP Deck Hand)

On Top of the World

Up, up we went to the summit, overlooking the harbour below. Our baggy jumpsuits catching the wind hauling ourselves to the top. The climb never ended. No doubt about it, we were on the Sydney Harbour Bridge. This iconic bridge with an estimated 6 million rivets took 8 years to construct, 1400 workers and is the world's largest steel arch bridge. The views were spectacular. The harbour, Kirribilli, (apparently a rich person's suburb) Cockatoo Island, the glamourous Opera House and the city of Sydney. Once we reached the summit, we saw the 5x10 metre Australian and New South Wales flags that every 3 months the government spends $60 000 to replace both the flags. It was amazing to hear that only 16 people died during the building phase considering there was no safety equipment. Also, only 2 people fell, one of them survived however, the other didn't. The total number of steps walked by bridge climbers over the past 21 years is equivalent to 7,200,000km - the same as walking from one side of Australia and back 33 times. I counted the steps and there were 1253 stairs just to the summit and back. We have now ticked 2 things off our bucket list, and we haven't even left primary school yet. A huge thanks to the P&C for letting us climb the bridge as we couldn't have done it without you. We loved it. By William Smith (Climb Operations Manager)

Surf's Up

When we were in Sydney, we went to Manly Beach. We went swimming in the surf. It was all good fun until poor Harry Lane (me) got hit by a man catching a wave back to shore. Luckily the man was not on a surfboard or boogie board, he was body surfing otherwise the next stop would have been Manly Hospital. It was a perfect day for being at the beach. The weather was beautiful, the water was shining and the sand was golden. We all loved it. By Harry Lane (Bondi Rescue extra)
